

The trans-LINK Canada Network: Partnering to Create and Exchange Knowledge on Supporting Transgender and Gender Diverse Survivors of Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence

Meet our New co-Applicants ! Two new co-applicants are joining our Partnership Grant.

Adam Davies (they/them), PhD, Curriculum Studies & Teacher Development, Assistant Professor, Department of Family Relations & Applied Nutrition, University of Guelph

With expertise in Sexual Diversity Studies and Women & Gender Studies, Dr. Davies, a queer, feminist, and interdisciplinary critical scholar, has a diverse research platform and interests, including accessibility and inclusion in relation to gender, sexuality, and disability. Dr. Davies utilizes queer and poststructural theories to analyze systems of gender and sexuality, in particular as it relates to youth.

Nadine Schuurman (she/her), PhD, Geography, Professor, Department of Geography, Simon Fraser University

Dr. Schuurman specializes in health geography and, through her work in health informatics and critical GIScience, developed a methodology to map spatial access to health and other services. Dr. Schuurman's work has assisted policy makers and service providers in making evidence-based decisions to improve the accessibility of health and other types of services (including for trauma survivors).

New Partners

We are happy to announce that we have three new partners: Queer Yukon Society, Alliance Arc-en-ciel, and Women and Gender Equality Canada (WAGE)!

Progress on our Proposal

We have received and addressed feedback on our proposal from the University of Toronto mock panel review. Overall, the panel was very enthusiastic about the project and offered some useful feedback for improvement.

Reminder for Partners

We are continuing to work with our partners to get Letters of Engagement signed and uploaded to the SSHRC system and SSHRC registrations finalized. For many partners, these steps are complete – thank you! – but please keep an eye on your email as we still have letters and system registrations outstanding from some folks.
